“Composing music to create a coherent atmosphere, where different pieces fit together as if they were a mathematical exercise, it is not simple. The genius Charles Mingus, a totemic influence on Javier Moreno, said that “Creativity is more than just being different . Anybody can plan weird ;that's easy. What's hard is to be as simple as Bach. Making the simple, awesomely simple, that's creativity.” In “Quinteto Capital,” Javier Moreno presents a series of his own compositions that seem simple, but are far from it, and simply work out like a well-oiled tempo that Mingus would be proud of”

“An album captivates when it takes you through different landscapes, when it transports us to an imaginary world with coherence. Also, when it inspires us. This piece of work by Javier Moreno projects a musical medley, a jazz with peripheral perspective, a succession of musical sensations that are well worth delving into and allowing oneself to be carried away”
